Dear Undergraduate Registered Student Organization Leaders,

Hello from the Student Organizations Committee of the Undergraduate Student Government (USG)! Our committee is responsible for the registration, oversight, and support of all registered student organizations (RSOs) at DU. We have created this constitution template to support your organization in creating a constitution that meets the requirements and standards established by the committee and the University of Denver.

The constitution is the guiding document for your organization, so please ensure that you take sufficient time in considering what your organization would like to include. While some articles and statements are required, this template is only meant as a guide for what your constitution might include. As such, you are free to customize it to serve your organization’s interests or needs.

Additionally, this document should be a living document that is updated consistently to meet the changing needs of your organization or new requirements established by the university or Student Organizations Committee. The committee requires updates to be made on an annual basis, as all RSOs will submit an up-to-date constitution during the annual re-registration cycle.

The Student Organizations Committee and the Office of Student Engagement are here to support you throughout your journey as an RSO! Should you have any questions about the constitution, RSO licensing process, or running your RSO, please don’t hesitate to contact us at usgorgs@du.edu at any time.

Thank you for all the work that you do in providing an exceptional experience to our students and serving our community at the University of Denver.

Yours in service,

USG Student Organizations Committee
Instructions:

When designing your constitution, please keep the following in mind to ensure that your constitution will meet the requirements and standards established by the USG Student Organizations Committee and the University of Denver:

• This sample constitution outlines the basic structure of a constitution that meets the requirements and standards set by the USG Student Organizations Committee and the University of Denver. You are free to decide the order in which your articles appear and whether to add additional articles beyond those included in this template. The layout of this sample constitution is meant to serve as a guide for your organization.

• All articles or sections marked with Required are required to appear in your constitution. All articles or sections marked with Conditionally Required are required in certain cases. All articles or sections marked with Recommended are highly encouraged. Please review the considerations and information provided for each article or section to determine whether the article is required in your constitution and how to best incorporate it.

A full example constitution is given at the end of the template for your reference with specific language samples you adopt for your own constitution.

Please note that the USG Student Organizations Committee reserves the right to review an organization’s constitution and request the appearance of the officers of an RSO to present the rationale of any part of their constitution at any time.

If you have any questions, please contact the USG Student Organizations Committee at usgorgs@du.edu

Articles

Article 1: Organization Name - Required

Section 1: Name
The name of the organization established within this constitution shall be the University of Denver (Insert Organization Name), hereafter referred to as (Insert Organization Name or abbreviation).
The formal name listed should be the same as that listed on CrimsonConnect.

Article 2: Purpose – Required

Section 1: Learning Objectives
The learning objectives of the organization should describe the educational value that the organization is providing to its members. This can be through stating intended educational outcomes or the minimum expectations for involvement in the organization such as meeting or events.

Section 2: Campus and Community Action Steps
Your action steps describe how your organization’s objectives will be completed. Action steps can include guest speakers, student presentations, student events, etc. Please cite specific activities or events that your organization has planned for the academic year. Avoid citing ambiguous, general activities such as “tabling” or “speaking event.”

Section 3: Community Service
DU is committed to being a great private university for the public good. To this end, each RSO is strongly encouraged to contribute something back to the DU community or the greater Denver communities by participating in some form of community service activity during the year. This is where you should outline the contributions your organization will make to the DU and surrounding community. If you are proposing a community service-based program, please focus this section on what service activities your organization will be executing.
Article 3: Affiliations – Conditionally Required

This article is only required if your organization is affiliated with an external organization and/or if your organization receives external funding.

Section 1: Organization Affiliations
This organization is affiliated with (cite any local, regional national, or honors organization that your club is affiliated with).

Section 2: External Funding
This organization receives external funding from (cite external source) and has filed a disclosure statement with the USG Student Organizations Committee. *This statement is only required if your organization receives external funding from a local, regional, national, or honors affiliation *

Article 4: Membership – Required

One of the options in Section 1: Membership is required to appear exactly as written below in your constitution. It is recommended that it is copied and pasted directly into your constitution.

(Option 1) Section 1: Membership
Voting members and officers of this organization must be enrolled undergraduate students at the University of Denver. Faculty, alumni, graduate student, or other non-students are encouraged to attend but may not vote, hold office, or be counted in the organization’s membership.

(Option 2) Section 1: Membership
At least 75% of voting members and officers of this organization must be enrolled undergraduate students at the University of Denver. Graduate students may be counted in the organization’s membership but may not exceed 25% of the general membership. Faculty, alumni, or other non-students are encouraged to attend but may not vote, hold office, or be counted in the organization’s membership
Section 2: Dues
If applicable, list dues requirements (amount, frequency of payment, and consequences of non-payment).

Section 3: Selection and Recruitment
Describe the process of new members joining the organization and how your organization plans on recruiting new members.

Section 4: Member Expectations – Recommended
This section should outline the expectations the RSO has of active members. Considerations:

- Is there a minimum number of RSO events or meetings a member must attend per quarter/year?
- Does your RSO require members to be in good conduct standing with the university?
  - Will the organization outline what status outcomes are cause for concern related to a member’s participation in the organization?

Section 5: Member Removal – Recommended
This section is intended to provide a process for the removal of a member should a concern arise.

* If a member reportedly violated any University policy or community standard, it is expected that the organization does not conduct any internal investigation in lieu of reporting to the appropriate University office(s) (i.e: Student Rights & Responsibilities, Equal Opportunity & Title IX. Etc.).

As applicable, it is expected that the organization will refer the alleged violation to the appropriate University office. The organization does not have authority to decide if a student did or did not violate University policy. The organization does have the authorization to decide the member’s standing in the organization after all appropriate University processes have concluded.
What if a member has a pending investigation with SRR/EOIX?

Unless there has been a finding of responsibility through a formal resolution, any allegation, received by the Office of Equal Opportunity & Title IX and Student Rights & Responsibilities, is presumed to be made in good faith and the person alleged in the concern is to be presumed not responsible. University offices are limited in what can be shared about student records.

If the organization has information that is of concern, that information should be shared with the appropriate University office(s) at DU Report It. If the organization has additional concerns about a member’s ability to continue to be involved pending a resolution, the organization should reach out to the appropriate office and request a review regarding involvement. Please note, an organization may not have all the relevant information and simply being a part of an investigation is not sufficient reason for removal.

Any questions about specific University processes can be directed to the applicable offices. (SRR@du.edu; TitleIX@du.edu; campus.safety@du.edu)

Considerations:

- What process will be followed if the outlined membership expectations of the RSO are not met by a member and/or someone joining the organization?
- Will it be a member’s responsibility to share information regarding their university standing with RSO Executive Leadership and/or an advisor?
- What will be the process for re-instating a member?
- Will there be an option for appeal? What will that process be?

Conditionally Required:

If a Member Removal section is included, the following statement is required to appear exactly as it is written below in your constitution. It is recommended that it is copied and pasted directly into your constitution in a subsection titled “Referral to University Process”.

It is expected that if a member of the organization has reportedly violated any University policy or community standard, this violation shall be reported to the appropriate University Office(s) (i.e.: Student Rights & Responsibilities, Equal Opportunity & Title IX. Etc.) and the organization will not under any circumstances conduct its own internal investigation in lieu of reporting to the appropriate University Office.

If the organization Executive Board has additional concerns about a member's ability to continue to be involved pending a resolution of a process being handled by a University Office, the organization's Executive Board and Staff Advisor should reach out to the appropriate office and request a review regarding involvement.

Article 5: Budget Planning – Required

Section 1: Budget Planning
Each Registered Student Organization is provided with a base allocation from the USG Finance Committee to help with the costs of running a program (supplies, instruction, guest speakers, etc). Please provide a brief overview of how you plan on using your funds throughout the academic year. Consider carefully what your program's essential needs are, and tailor your budget to reflect those needs. This is not an application for finances. This is just a way to gauge your org's budget throughout the academic year.

Conditionally Required:
*If Article 4, Section 1 of your constitution allows for up to 25% of your membership to include graduate students, this section must include a stipulation that the organization’s funding and USG supplemental funding cannot be used for events held exclusively for Graduate members.

Article 6: Officer Positions and the Executive Board - Required

Section 1: Officers
List the titles of the officer positions that will comprise the executive board of the organization. Please remember that every student organization must have at least the roles of a president, vice-president, and treasurer. You can customize the names of the positions, so long as the roles remain the same. Please note, student organizations are free to add further E-board position than is required. Do not include the individual names of the students holding each position, as this information should only be included on the cover page each year.

* Please do not place current student officer names on any other part of the constitution other than the title page. The title page is meant to be updated annually as part of the re-registration process. The article containing the officer position description should only outline the duties and requirements of your organization’s officer positions.

Conditionally Required:
* If Article 4, Section 1 of your constitution allows for up to 25% of your membership to include graduate students, your Constitution must include the following stipulation in Article 6: The President, Treasurer, and three-fourths of all the organization’s officers must be undergraduates.

Subsection 1: The President
The President shall (list specific duties and functions of this position).

Subsection 2: The Vice President
The Vice President shall (list specific duties and functions of this position).

Subsection 3: The Treasurer
The President shall (list specific duties and functions of this position)

Subsection 4: Additional Officers
(list specific duties and functions of additional officer positions)

Section 2: The Electoral Process
This section outlines the electoral process for officers. You are free to decide the process for how officers will be elected, so long as the following requirements are met:
• The process is open to all eligible members of the organization. The organization may establish eligibility requirements, such as a required length of membership in the organization.

• The process is competitive and not appointed. This can happen through direct elections, applications and interviews, or other competitive selection means. At no time shall another officer or advisor make a direct appointment of an officer candidate without the candidate first being selected through a competitive process.

• There is compliance with applicable university policies on nondiscrimination and equal opportunity.

Section 5: Officer Removal – Recommended
This section is intended to provide a process for the removal of an officer should a concern arise.

* If an officer reportedly violated any University policy or community standard, it is expected that the organization does not conduct any internal investigation in lieu of reporting to the appropriate University office(s) (i.e: Student Rights & Responsibilities, Equal Opportunity & Title IX. Etc.).

As applicable, it is expected that the organization will refer the alleged violation to the appropriate University office. The organization does not have authority to decide if a student did or did not violate University policy. The organization does have the authorization to decide the member’s standing in the organization after all appropriate University processes have concluded.

* What if an officer has a pending investigation with SRR/EOIX?

Unless there has been a finding of responsibility through a formal resolution, any allegation, received by the Office of Equal Opportunity & Title IX and Student Rights & Responsibilities, is presumed to be made in good faith and the person alleged in the concern is to be presumed not responsible. University offices are limited in what can be shared about student records.
If the organization has information that is of concern, that information should be shared with the appropriate University office(s) at DU Report It. If the organization has additional concerns about an officer’s ability to continue to be involved pending a resolution, the organization should reach out to the appropriate office and request a review regarding involvement. Please note, an organization may not have all the relevant information and simply being a part of an investigation is not sufficient reason for removal.

Any questions about specific University processes can be directed to the applicable offices. (SRR@du.edu; TitleIX@du.edu; campus.safety@du.edu)

Considerations:

- What process will be followed if an officer is not upholding their duties as outlined in the RSO Constitution?
- Will the other Officers of the executive board vote on recall/removal?
  - Or will a vote of this kind be opened to the full membership of the organization?
  - Is there a minimum vote that must be met for an action to move forward?
- Will it be an officer’s responsibility to share a change in their university standing with the rest of the RSO Executive Leadership and/or an advisor?
- What will be the process for re-instating an officer?
- Could an officer be recalled (dropped down to member status) without necessarily being fully removed from the organization?
- Will there be an option for appeal? What will that process be?

Conditionally Required:

* If an Officer Removal section is included, the following statement is required to appear exactly as it is written below in your constitution. It is recommended that it is copied and pasted directly into your constitution in a subsection titled “Referral to University Process”.*

It is expected that if an officer of the organization has reportedly violated any University policy or community standard, this violation shall be reported to the appropriate University Office(s) (i.e.: Student Rights & Responsibilities, Equal Opportunity & Title IX. Etc.) and the organization will not under any circumstances conduct its own internal investigation in lieu of reporting to the appropriate University Office.

If the organization Executive Board has additional concerns about a member’s ability to continue to be involved pending a resolution of a process being handled by a University Office, the organization Executive Board and Staff Advisor should reach out to the appropriate office and request a review regarding involvement.

Article 7: Constitution Amendment Process – Recommended

This section outlines how to change the constitution and bylaws of your RSO

Considerations:
- Who can propose a change to the constitution or bylaws? Any member of the RSO or only officers?
- What would the process of proposing a change in the constitution or bylaws look like?
- What would the discussion or debate process of the proposed change look like? Do all members need to be present? Or only the officers?
- Who can vote on the proposed change? All members of the RSO? Or only the officers?
- How many votes are needed to pass the proposed change?
- What is the procedure to place the change into the constitution? Who would be responsible for this process? One person to make the change and another person to verify the change is complete?

Conditionally Required:
* If you decide to include this section, please ensure the following is added:*
Required modifications to the RSO’s constitution and bylaws as stipulated by the Office of Student Engagement or USG Student Organizations Committee during RSO Re-Registration reviews will be considered and adopted as requested and subsequently shared with RSO officers for record.

Article 8: Statement of Non-Discrimination – Required

The statement in Section 1: Statement of Non-Discrimination is required to appear exactly as it is written below in your constitution. It is recommended that it is copied and pasted directly into your constitution.

Section 1: Statement of Non-Discrimination

In keeping with the University of Denver’s policy of nondiscrimination, this organization shall not discriminate on the basis of sex, race, color, sexual orientation, gender identity and gender expression, religion, age, marital status, national origin, disability, or veteran status. This policy will include, but is not limited to recruiting, membership, organization activities, or opportunities to hold office.

Article 9: Statement of Non-Hazing – Required

The statement in Section 1: Statement of Non-Hazing is required to appear exactly as it is written below in your constitution. It is recommended that it is copied and pasted directly into your constitution.

Actively or passively encouraging these acts is also prohibited.

Article 10: Statement of Compliance – Required

The statement in Section 1: Statement of Compliance is required to appear exactly as it is written below in your constitution. It is recommended that it is copied and pasted directly into your constitution.
